SOUTH SIDE HIGH SCHOOL'S TWENTY-FIFTH SENIOR CLASS

Presents Its Annual
THE 1947 TOTEM
Fort Wayne, Indiana
May, 1947 . . . . .

25 Years at

South Side . . .

For a quarter of a Century — from long skirts to short — from high collars to T-Shirts
— South Side has been constant in high scholarship, good teachers, swell teams and good times ....

In 1922 South Side was the largest one-story high school in the country . . .

The building of our second story in 1938 gave us

the Greeley Room, 114, 170, and more room . . .

Now in 1947...

These scenes of "the school that has no equal" have been familiar to Archers since our school was in infancy until now in 1947 it has grown up and put on long pants. Each scene will recall a different event to each of the students who have attended it during these twenty-five years. For example: One will never forget that bitter cold night when he stood outside the main Calhoun Street door waiting to be let in for a basketball game. Another recalls seeking the shelter of the northwest door until his bus came on a rainy day, while someone else remembers those fifth period sun baths on the northeast lawn. What girl can forget the time she spent standing on the north porch watching her "hero" at football practice?

we're grown up

The memory often changes as we look at a slightly different view of the same place. The southwest door might remind some of that last mad rush to get in it and to homeroom when the bus was late on one of those beastly cold mornings. A general view of Calhoun Street recalls that blissful feeling of freedom as we strolled out on a Friday night in the fall dreaming of "tomorrow's football game." Those girls who push the pedals to school will never forget wheeling their bikes in at the northeast corner. This friendly spring picture of the southwest door is reminiscent of those beautiful warm days when we reluctantly strolled in at the end of fourth or fifth period.

Three R's

Second row across: Civic students learn the fundamentals of good government. . . . Pupils acquire a lot of useful information about this earth in a physical geography class.

Third row across: Botany students profitably learn about plant life. . . . Physics students watch a demonstration to prove a principle.

Training

First row across: Bookkeeping learners have eyes on future jobs. . . . To keep their bodies as well as their minds in condition, girls learn how to participate in sports in their gym classes.

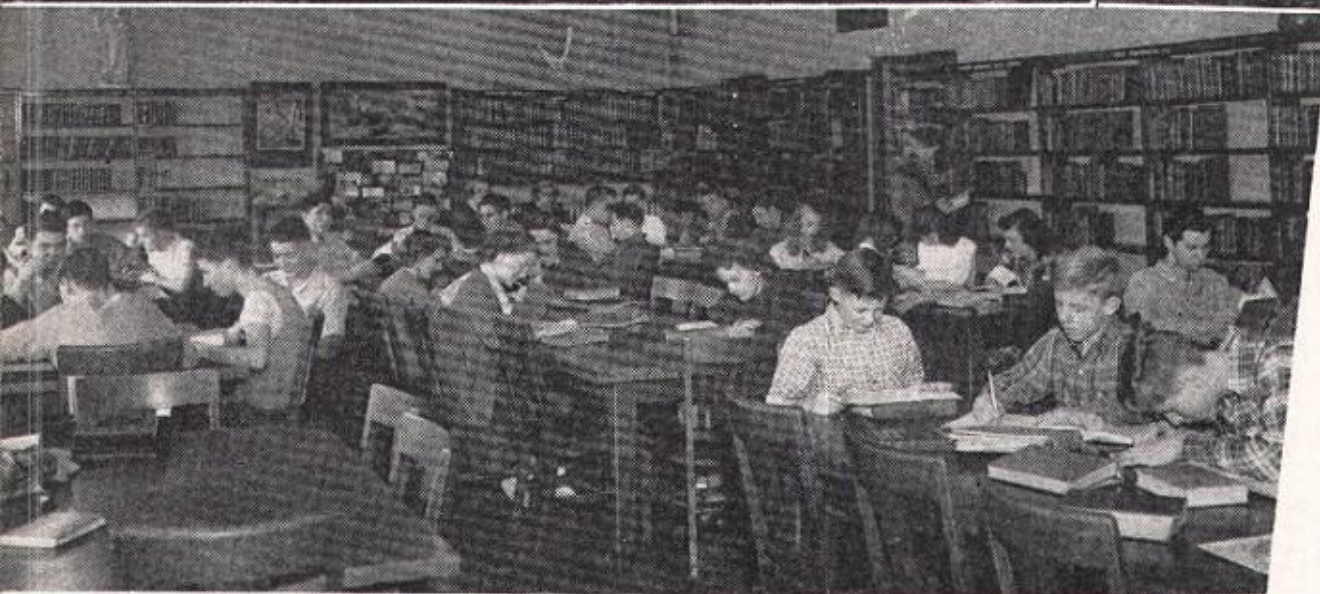

Second row across: asdf ; lkj— The keys beat out this rhythm as future secretaries learn the art of typing. . . . Geometry students construct their figures and work out their problems on the blackboard.

To the right: A housekeeper should be able to cook; here, girls learn this art. . . . Boys and girls interested in playing musical instruments get training and experience as they play for the band.

Culture

First row across: In the Times Room, boys and girls gain experience in expressing thoughts on paper. . . . Art students express themselves on "canvas". . . . A welcome break comes when we line up in the cafeteria.

Second row across: Up go the eager hands in a U. S. history class. . . . We've learned the theory of all of these experiments on class days; and, now that we're in the chem lab, the question is "Will it work?"

At left: Students use the library's facilities to get that report or autobiography. . . . Girls literally learn "graceful living" in this dance class.

Well-being

First row across: Health students get information by listening to recordings. . . . Boys work with their hands and tools in shaping articles out of metal.

Second row across: We learn enough about the form of poetry in English 7 to write our own. . . . The whys and wherefores of plant and insect life are learned in biology class.

To the left: Boys put their knowledge of wood-working, which will always be useful to them, to practical use. . . . A good singing voice is always a joy to both the singer and his audience. The choir here rehearses.

Our Principal R. Nelson Snider

One of the main assets to South Side's educational rating is the unswerving desire of our fine leader, R. Nelson Snider, to further our education and advance us into top ranks. With this firm leadership and guidance, the students of South Side should never falter along the way to complete success in whatever they undertake. Mr. Snider became our principal in September, 1927, and hence is completing his twentieth year here.

Our Superintendent

Merle J. Abbett is a man with a gifted talent for the planning of not only what goes on in our schools today but also for improvements which may better the school system in years to come. Graduates of any one of our city schools can look to the past and realize the many ways in which our superintendent has helped us.

Also serving us...

Our reliable dean is the capable and gracious Miss Martha Pittenger. Always ready to help, she is a friend to every South Side student. Her duties are many and varied. No activity would be complete without the personal assistance of this grand person.

Always smiling and glad to help a student plan his future is Mr. Paul Sidell, our guidance director. His advice, whether on subjects for college or business careers, can be relied on as the best. He is here to serve us.

Paul Sidell.

The work in the General Office is accomplished by the school's two attractive secretaries, Miss Marquita Baker and Mrs. Garneta Swank. Their efficiency assures us that their jobs are in capable hands.

Philo first among 25-year clubs

"Through the Years" might well be the theme song of the Philaethian Club, that has brought pleasure to so many girls since it was first started twenty-five years ago by Miss Elizabeth Demaree.

Nearly 1500 members have gone to the meetings. These meetings consist of poetry reading contests, original poetry, and book reviews. Twice a year the Thespians of the club present a play that they have chosen, cast, and produced by themselves.

Each year the girls have enjoyed a Saint Patrick's Day banquet and a musical of the talent found in the club's membership. During football season, the Philaethians promote a school dance called the "Touchdown Twirl."

From this club the girls derive not only friendship with the other members, but also the key to good literature and culture that is so important in the development of young womanhood.

It is easy to see that such an outstanding club has been thriving with plenty of success for twenty-five years, and that it will continue to be a leading club of South Side as long as Miss Demaree remains as the capable leader and the girls find it as entertaining and profitable as they have in the past.

All the girls of Philo and its little sister club, Meterites, look forward to the annual joint meeting of the two clubs.

Another anticipated annual event is the Philo Mother-Daughter Tea. This meeting, held in the spring, is greatly enjoyed by the daughters as it enables them to show the club of which they are so proud to their mothers. It also presents the splendid opportunity to the mothers to view their daughters' club in action.

Upperclassmen feel especially honored at the last two events on their calendar. At the Senior Day meeting, these girls relax as they are entertained by the underclass members. To give a marvelous climax to the year's activities is the Philo breakfast which gives a last chance to Seniors to enjoy their group.

Philo in action

Top: Marcia Mast, Philo program chairman, gives an outline of the club's meetings for the spring semester at their second meeting in the spring term.

Bottom left: Charlotte Whelan, vice-president, pins the gold and white ribbons on a new member, Mary Jane Swaim, at the initiation meeting. The ribbons must be worn for a week, and the wearer must address the old members of Philo as Miss.

Bottom right: Hermine Winkelblech plays for the Philo quartet, consisting of Emile Raatz, Ruth Miller, Delores Martin, and Marcia Mast. These girls led the club members in singing the Philo songs at the initiation meeting.

First row: Phyllis Shinn, Carolyn Crabill, Louise Kieser, Donna Pierce, Shirley Gaskill, Betty Ewigleben, Beverly Barnes, Helen Litchin, Dinna Hutsell, Shirley Hemphill.

So-Si-Y has silver anniversary

For twenty-five years, So-Si-Y has maintained a club in South Side that has stressed service, character building, and friendship among Junior and Senior girls. The purpose of So-Si-Y is "to make a contribution to those elements in the life of the girl to live as a Christian of her age should live and to aid her to put into practice in her community her standard of Christian living. It endeavors to help a girl grow through normal natural activities into those habits, insight and ideals which will make her a responsible, eager woman, capable and ready to develop and share in the group expressions which are making effective the purpose of God in the world."

Although the club was started in 1922 by Miss Pittenger and a few YWCA workers, it is now under the capable leadership of Miss R. Hazel Miller and Miss Beulah Rinehart. In 1922, there were 134 members, which included all but fourteen of the girls attending South Side at that time. Now there are about fifty active members.

Quite a few of the meetings are held traditionally each year: the Mother-Daughter Tea, the World Fellowship program, the Faculty Tea, and the Christmas Party. Two meetings each year are devoted to service. Easter egg baskets were made for the Neighborhood House, and hemming towels for the Needlework Guild has always been a project of the club. A tea was held at the home of Miss Miller this year followed by an outdoor ceremonial worship service in candlelight on the island at Reservoir Park. Also new this year was the Father-Daughter Potluck.

This year's officers were Shirley Gaskill, president; Virginia Evanoff, vice-president, in the Spring, and Dorothy Hirschman, vice-president in the Fall; Donna Hutsell, secretary; and Sharon Reinhard, treasurer.

So-Si-Y at work

U.S.A. rounds out 25th year

Since the beginning of the school the USA Club, which was organized by Miss Pittenger, has been affiliated with the YWCA. USA stands for Unity, Service, and Appreciation, and is a member of the Girl Reserves, an International organization which was recently renamed Y-Teens.

Miss Gertrude Keep, Miss Milocent Work, Miss Adelaide Fiedler, Miss Emma Kiefer, Miss Beulah Rinehart, Miss Olive Perkins, and Miss Lorraine Foster were sponsors in the early years of this club for freshman and sophomore girls. Faculty advisers are Miss Elizabeth Kelley and Mrs. Grace Welty.

To develop Christian leadership is the purpose of this club, which has work and play in its many activities. The annual events are as follows: Membership Party, Candlelight Initiation, Christmas Party, Mother-Daughter Tea in Spring and Service meeting where the girls work on projects for the Red Cross or Needlework Guild. Other meetings consist of panel-discussions, picnics, talks by guest speakers, and musicales.

The membership party is expressly for members who have paid their dues for the semester. The meeting is purely social and is one of the most enjoyable events of the year.

The candlelight initiation is a very lovely service. The old members stand in a semicircle with lighted candles, and the new members are brought in with unlighted candles. After the old members explain the purpose of the club, two old members light the candles held by the new members.

The Christmas Party is always fun; games are played; carols are sung; and refreshments are served. Very often there are speakers at this party who give talks or stories on Christmas.

The Mother-Daughter Tea which is held in the spring always attracts quite a number of guests. This event gives the members a chance to display their talents.

At the service meeting, the girls make scrapbooks or other things for the Red Cross. The Needlework Guild benefits too, for the girls hem towels or sew on other things for it.

There are panel-discussions at other meetings. At these meetings, subjects like good manners on dates and general good manners are discussed. In the summer, picnics are enjoyed by the members. Guest speakers who speak on many interesting subjects highlight some meetings. Beautiful musicals also provide enjoyment to all.

U.S.A. in meeting

One of the most impressive meetings that USA has through the years is the induction service carried on by candlelight. This is shown in the picture at the upper right.

Every other Thursday finds the members up in the Greeley Room ready for a peppy business meeting. Their enthusiasm is well portrayed by the picture at the left below.

It is generally accepted that when a group of girls get together they like to sing. The picture at the lower left is proof positive that the USA girls are no exception.

The music stops, and everyone dives for a chair. Yes, musical chair is still another favorite in USA as illustrated by the lower right hand picture.

Math-Science, popular for 25 years

"To interest people in the practical application of mathematics and science" has been the aim of Math-Science Club during its twenty-five years of existence. Being one of the original clubs, it has undergone a few changes since its organization. All the science and mathematics teachers were in it at first, and the meetings were held in the various science labs. It stood this way for ten years; then Miss Fiedler, Mr. Whelan, and Mr. Gould supervised it for a few years. Later Miss Hodgson helped out; and for the last five years, Miss Hodgson and Mr. Gould have been the sole faculty advisers.

Math-Science tends to encourage pupils in the further study of mathematics and science and to show them the wonderful opportunities coming from the advanced stages of these two fields. Botany can develop into work in forestry; physics, in electrical engineering. Dentists and doctors must also be advanced in both subjects. An outstanding brain specialist in Boston and an engineer at Farnsworth were past presidents of Math-Science Club.

For the most part, people from outside of South Side are brought in to speak at the meetings which are held the first Friday night of each month. In this way the students can get first-hand information on how these two subjects can be used in their future occupations.

Two of the traditional meetings which have been passed on from year to year are the Halloween party in October and the Christmas presentation in December. Recently, Math-Science has given honor awards to those seniors who have at least a major in one of these fields and a minor in the other. Their average must be 92 per cent or better, and they must have been active and helpful in the club.

The Times at the top for 25 years

The Times has been at the top in school publications throughout the twenty-five years of its existence. During this time, the honors that The Times has won have been many and varied. The Times has received International Honor Rating, the highest possible award, from the Quill and Scroll since the establishment of this journalistic organization in 1926.

The Times continuously was recognized as the best high school paper in the United States by the National Scholastic Press Association. The Times won a cup for this each year until this system was done away with and the NSPA began issuing All-American ratings. The Times has received All-American ratings ever since.

The Columbia Scholastic Press Association has given The Times its highest recognition for the twenty-two years the CSPA has been in existence.

The Times continuously took the first prize from the Indiana High School Press Association until the association no longer gave these awards.

The Times has also received top awards for the war services it performed. The George H. Gallup Award, given by Quill and Scroll, and the Certificate of Merit from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association are two such awards. Individual writing awards in all fields of journalistic writing have been won by the Times staff members. One such organization issuing these awards is the Scholastic Magazine.

The first issue of The Times was printed on October 6, 1922. Throughout these twenty-five years The Times has never missed a scheduled issue. Also, in recent years, South Side students have backed their paper with 100 per cent subscription. Miss Harvey has been adviser all twenty-five years.

The Totem, students' annual 25 years

Activity, a dull hum, a touch of laughter, were all found in the South Side Totem office as the senior students, aided by a couple of ambitious juniors and a swell supervisor, Miss Rowena Harvey, worked together to put out this twenty-fifth anniversary yearbook. It commemorates not only the twenty-fifth year of South Side, but also the publishing of the twenty-fifth Totem.

Few realize when the work behind a school yearbook really begins. The annual first began to take shape way last summer when Miss Harvey, Don Breimeier, and Jackie Wilson, co-editors, met to lay out the plans for the book. Even before school started, Don and his camera assistant, Marshall Lincoln, began taking pics to fill the five sections of our yearbook. Meanwhile, Jackie worked with the teachers and made appointments for their pictures.

October found the Totem campaign in full swing presenting much work for Business Manager, Kathleen Kohr, and her able assistants, Marilyn Moore, Betty Koerber, Jinny Brown, Joan Kline, and Marilyn Kayser. A record-breaking number of 1500 was sold. The class editors, Georgia Dreisbach, seniors; Gretchen Askerberg, juniors; Jo Reed, sophomores; and Janet Chappell, freshmen, waded into their work by sending out the class polls. Senior pictures and senior histories added to Georgia's troubles. Meanwhile Don and Marshall worked on and on with their camera while Jackie made the appointments.

With January came graduation for some of the staff, and Kay Kohr, Marilyn Moore, and Janet Chappell left for full-time jobs. Kay Kayser, Joyce Lakey, and Norma Gilbert stepped into their hip boots and waded in. There was plenty of work to greet them, too, as January also meant that the freshman campaign and the underclass pics were not far away.

Cuts began to return from the engravers and copy was in demand. Cynthia Koerber, copy editor, and her staff of writers, Jo Reed, Gretch Askerberg, Di Fletcher, Georgia Dreisbach, Norma Gilbert, and Marilyn Kayser, gave answer to this demand. Jim Solomon, sports editor, added his writings. Proof was also read by this grand group of workers.

Finally the finished product was sent away to the printers. The staff heaved a sigh of relief; only the handing out of the books remained. It had been a lot of work, yes; but it was a lot of fun too. It was with a lot of satisfaction in a job well done that the members of the staff handed you this, the twenty-fifth Totem.

Our public speakers train to be leaders in tomorrow's world

South Side's speech department has always been one of the finest in the state. This year's group is no exception. Wrangler activities were taken over and directed this year by Miss Mary Elizabeth Vandebark, pictured in the center.

In the upper left corner are the first and second semester presidents; Jim Solomon, winner of Howe Military honors in oratorical declamation, and Joe Christoff, Wabash oratorical speaker, first place winner in Wranglers Original Oratorical Contest, and a participant in the Junior Town Meeting of the Air.

John W. Broom

The South Side High School Band has completed another successful season under the effective leadership of their new director, Mr. John Broom. During the past year the band has appeared at assemblies, pep sessions, concerts, basketball and football games, besides having marched in the Armistice, Election, and Memorial Day parades. In February the band made its second out-of-town trip since the war, when they traveled to Muncie for the South Side-Burris basketball game. Highlights of the year were the annual spring concert in May and a Christmas party held for all the band members.

Officers elected during the year were: Captain, Frank Bidlack; quartermaster, John Ellenwood; secretary, Delores Reidenbach; librarians, Ellen White and Jim Layman; drum major, Dick Pepple; and assistant drum major, Richard May. Captains of the twirlers for the first and second semesters were Pat Baker and Marclyn Dafforn.

Separate talented groups in the band during the last year were the trumpet trio, french horn quartette, and the brass sextette, which is composed of Frank Bidlack, David Double, Richard May, Henry Brandt, Jack Clark, and Dick Pepple. Delores Reidenbach, solo clarinetist, won first class honors in the State Solo and Ensemble contest held in April. First class rating was also given to the french horn quartette. Four Seniors, John Ellenwood, Frank Bidlack, Robert McDougall, and Delores Reidenbach, have earned gold music pins for high musical achievement.

Our Orchestra . . .

The South Side High School Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Herbert Arlington, has been one of the most aggressive musical organizations in school. The orchestra now has a total membership of forty-five musicians. Highlights of the year include playing for the Chamber of Commerce, Woman's Club, P.T.A. teas, the participation in the spring concert, music programs, and the Thanksgiving and Easter programs.

Aside from the regular orchestra, several talented groups have appeared for many occasions. These groups include a clarinet quartette consisting of Gilbert Anderson, Marc Ralston, Delores Reidenbach, and Robert McDougall, a string ensemble, and a string quintette. These groups have appeared at the Senior Reception, P.T.A. study meetings, Simpson Methodist, and the Trinity English Lutheran Churches.

Featured soloists during the year were Joan Suter, a very talented violinist, and Phyllis Shinn, who has successfully made known her accomplishments on the piano and 'cello. Orchestra officers for the past year include Joan Suter, president; Lorraine Frykberg, vice-president; Carolyn Scholer, secretary; and Tom Archer, social chairman.

Our Choir . . .

Middle: Mr. Lester Hostetler, competent director. Emilie Raatz, featured soprano soloist.

Another busy concert season has been completed by the South Side Vesper Choir, under the direction of Mr. Lester Hostetler. During the past year the choir has appeared before a variety of civic and church groups. The choir also takes part in the Thanksgiving, Easter, and Christmas services held in the school gymnasium aside from their annual Spring Concert which was held on May 16.

Among the highlights of this year were concerts at the Quimby Auditorium, Chamber of Commerce, Simpson Methodist Church, Plymouth Congregational Church, Lions Club, YWCA "Hanging of the Greens", Trinity English Lutheran Church, and the South Wayne Baptist Church. One of the unique performances of the year was the Christmas Tree composed of choir members which sang for the Christmas assembly.

Officers appointed for the choir during the past year were Nancy Siebold, secretary; LaDonna Sprunger, accompanist; and Nancy VonGunten, librarian. Dorcas McKay and Bill Holzworth, pianists, contributed their talents to make a very successful year. A trio composed of Joyce Striker, Shirley Scott, and Nancy Siebold have appeared with the choir on many occasions and have performed for a variety of organizations. Emilie Raatz has effectively handled all of the solo soprano parts.

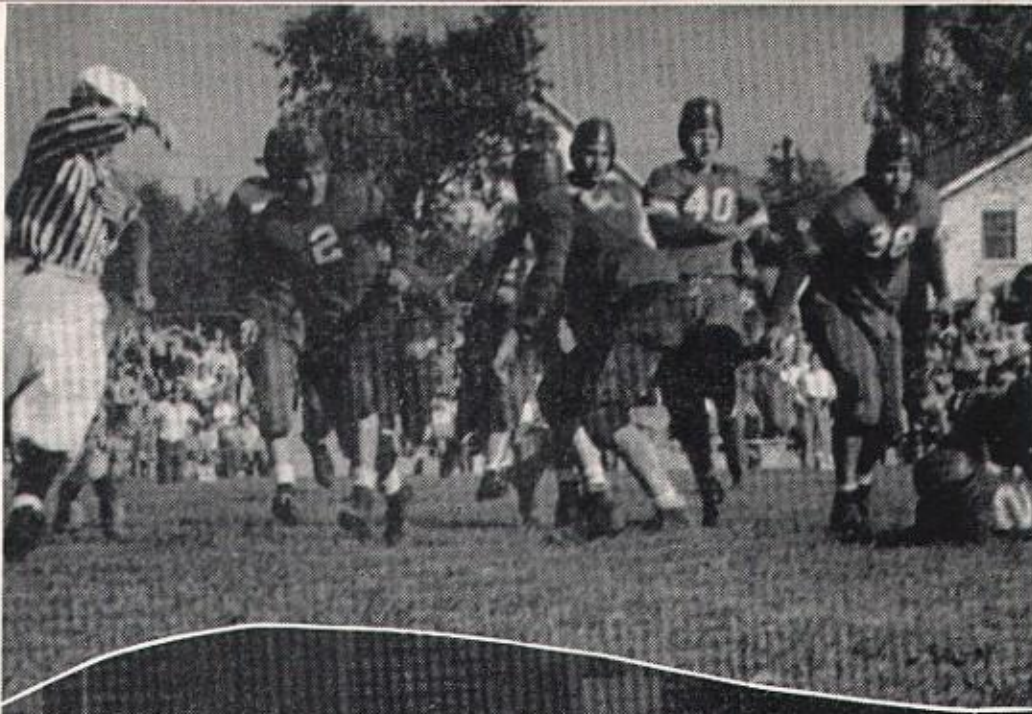

At the piano is LaDonna Sprunger, and Nancy Von Gunten.

Gridmen have good season

This year's grid record of four wins and five losses might not have been the best in the school's history, but certainly no other South Side teams have had more spirit and determination than this year's squad, coached by able George Collyer. Included in this record is a second place in the City Series Grid Race, which was accomplished by sheer determination. On paper, the Archers looked mighty powerful defensively, as they held their opponents to a 90-point total or a 10-point total per game. Offensively the Collyermen sweated out a 124-point total or a 13.7 average per game.

One of the outstanding factors of this year's team is that every game produced a new star. Coach Collyer was blessed with capable reserves, many of whom were underclassmen. These boys give Collyer a lot to look forward to in the '47 campaign.

Possibly the main cog in the powerful green grid machine was the all-city triple threat halfback, Chuck Scheele. No one will ever forget his terrific running mate, Bill Beery; Bill Pollak, high scoring all-city fullback; Larry Jenney, reliable signal caller; deceptive Bobby Nye, slashing scatback.

However, the Archer line turned in the finest piece of work for the year. Many have said that our '46 line was the best in the school's history. Carl Klenke, Bill Kempf, Bill Schultz, and Max Achelman—those boys' names will go down beside other great Archer ends. All-City Gene Holtrey and Ed Roth made one of the toughest tackle and guard combines this city has seen in a long time. Willie Allmandinger won't be forgotten around the Alma Mater's halls because of the fine work he did at the tackle slot. Carl Jones, Jim Hettler, Marshall Warshauer. Who could forget their outstanding job at the guard position? All-City Bob Richards could always be depended upon to hold up the center of our strong forward wall.

These boys with their spirit and determination constituted one of the finest ball teams ever fielded by South Side.

South Side's Archers celebrated the silver anniversary of the school by completing one of the most glorious hardwood seasons in the history of "ye old South."

Coach Wayne Scott's netmen finished the regular season with seventeen wins against one setback.

It was indeed a thrilling sight to see the team victoriously cut the nets after winning the Sectional and Regional crowns for the first time since 1940.

The Archers finally bowed in defeat to a red-hot Marion five in the Muncie Fieldhouse in the first game of the semi-finals. But it can never be said that the Scottmen gave up; from the first second to the final gun the team gave the very best they had, but their best was not quite good enough that dreary afternoon.

The graduating netters are Russell, Greiner, and McClure. Willie was our popular, smooth forward, who had beautiful rebounding, good ball handling, and who was the high scorer of the team with 251 points. Bud was our big center who contributed rebounding and stellar all-round play to the Archer cause. Phil was the lad who pulled many a game out of fire with his consistently accurate shots.

Archers ardent on cinders

Though track and field as a sport has changed radically in the twenty-five years since South Side's beginning, it still holds much the same interest and enjoyment for Archer fans as it did in 1923. This year Coach George Collyer once again had a fine track team, combining balance with some individual brilliance.

The Green opened the season against Elkhart and Mishawaka with lopsided wins. In the latter meet Virgil Shane, senior half-miler, ran a 2:08 race and Bob Johnson, another senior, had a good 4:43 time for the mile. The Archer half-mile relay continued what has been something of a tradition with Kelly tracksters in racking up a good 1:37.2. The team was composed of Thieme, Roberts, Marsh, and Chaplin.

Following these dual meets the South Side squad participated in the Muncie, Goshen, and Kokomo Relays and did well in each. The city and sectional meets came next and South came through in great fashion against their nearby competitors. Several points at state were in prospect as this story went to press.

In the ever-popular 100-yard dash the Archers were well represented by Ted Thieme, Al Roberts, and Jim Chaplin, who strove to break the varsity record for these 25 years. This record was established several years ago at 10 seconds flat by Ensley and Wilson. In the other short dash, the 220, Thieme and Roberts once more were the shining lights, though Merle Marsh developed remarkably. The best done in this event during the 25 years' was Ensley's 22.1 mark.

In the 440 the Archers were weaker than usual, though Mayer and Lomont worked hard to beat the varsity record, also by Ensley, of 50.9. In the low and high hurdles Norm Greiner starred for the Green with Bill Schultz not far behind. The varsity records are 15.3 by Vogel and Stults in the highs and 23.3 by Dick Beery in the lows.

Feistkorn's fine varsity mark of 1:57.9 was the aim of half-miler Virgil Shane, while Bob Johnson and Dick Schweizer attempted to best Cook's mile record of 4:29.9. In the pole vault Arden Aultman's varsity mark of 11 feet 7½ inches was endangered by Gerald Goodwin, Doug Lawrence, and Paul Mischo. Bill Beery and Casey Clauser were the high jumpers with Kilpatrick's soaring 6 feet 3½ inch record to shoot at.

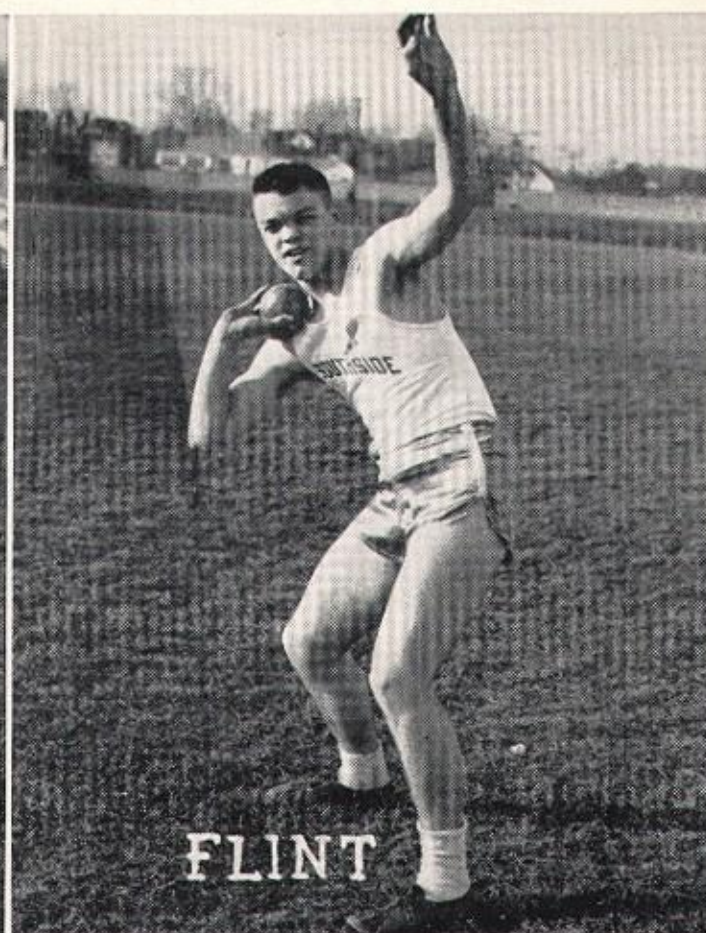

In the shot put Ed Roth and Bud Hovarter attempted to heave the pill out to Close's varsity record of 50 feet 2½ inches. The aforementioned half-mile relay team was out to beat the varsity mark of 1:32.5 set by Shimer, Bond, Wuttke, and Parry. The mile quartet of Mayer, Johnson, Jones, and Greiner attempted to break the varsity mark of 3:32.1 by Miller, Zern, Wuttke, and Schoenfield. The broad jump mark of 21 feet 7 inches by Rudy Wuttke was the aim of Bill Beery.

All in all, the 1947 edition of the South Side track team continued in the tradition of 25 years of Archer teams, showed a lot of determination, and was composed of a fine bunch of fellows.

GAA provides full program

Another successful year in the Girls' Athletic Association has been completed under the competent leadership of Mrs. Alice Keegan, Miss Helen Pohlmeyer, and the GAA Executive Board. Over four hundred girls have participated in the variety of activities which have been offered by this organization.

The club was first organized by Miss Alice Patterson on January 13, 1926, and has been the leading club among girls for the past twenty-one years. GAA has given many opportunities for girls to develop their talents, leadership, initiative, sportsmanship, citizenship, and in general the improvement of their skills and social tendencies.

Officers of the GAA Executive Board for the past year have been Jane Rump, president; Barbara Richardson, vice-president; Dorothy Hirschman, treasurer; Ruth Allmendinger, sports manager; Joan Kline, sports editor; Dorothy Trempe, assistant sports editor; and Gwen Gerig, freshman representative.

The social activities of GAA include the Halloween Party, the Informal Recognition Sports Party, the Formal Recognition Service in January when the girls receive their letters and numerals after earning the required number of points, and the annual Spring Show given by all the physical education classes.

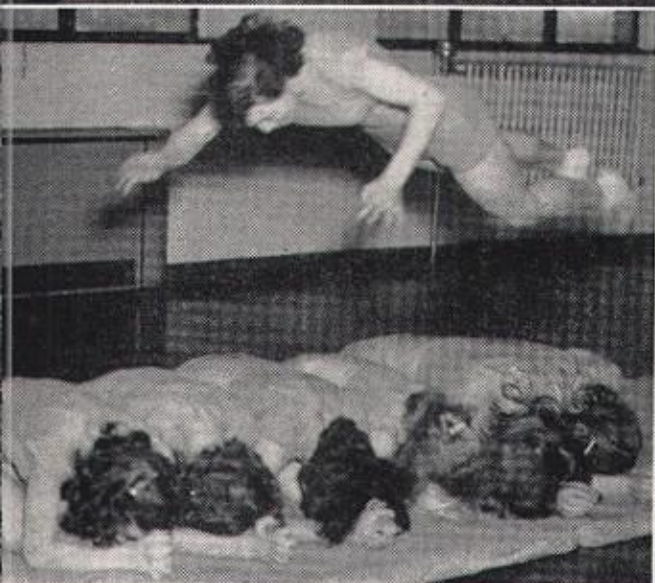

During the current year the GAA members have participated in various activities including speedball, basketball, volley ball, tumbling, and baseball. Other highlights of the year consisted of the tennis tournament with Phyllis Miller taking the honors and the ping pong tourney with Bonnie Marschand as champion.

Recently purchased this year for the Girls' Athletic Department was a trampoline, which has been a source of real enjoyment for all the girls. The first public exhibition was given by a group of advanced tumblers on the evening of the Spring Show.

"Carnival", that was the name of that excellent spring show put on by the girls' physical education department in March. The advanced modern ballet group, coached by Miss Pohlmeyer, presented "Mardi Gras". Their costumes were aqua leotards and multi-colored skirts.

As the pianos swung out with "It's a Grand Night for Singing", a dozen pretty girls, clad in yellow shorts, red and white candy-striped blouses, and high, pointed caps, came out onto the floor to present their tap-dance routine, perfected by Mrs. Keegan.

Having bound their hair in bright colored scarfs, the girls of Miss Pohlmeyer's dance classes tried to look fierce as they went into their "Pirate Dance". The dance consisted of many exercises put together into an attractive pattern by Miss Pohlmeyer.

Masks were the fitting final touch to the all white outfits of Mrs. Keegan's dancers as they executed the "Masquerade Waltz", a rather difficult classical ballet routine.

Of course, a spring show would never be complete without those active advanced tumblers giving their portion of thrills. Cartwheels, fish flops, and headstands were only a small part of their performance. Skippy Brunskill, Doris Williams, and Marilyn Davis were the outstanding acrobats of the evening. The girls also performed on the trampoline for the first time this year.

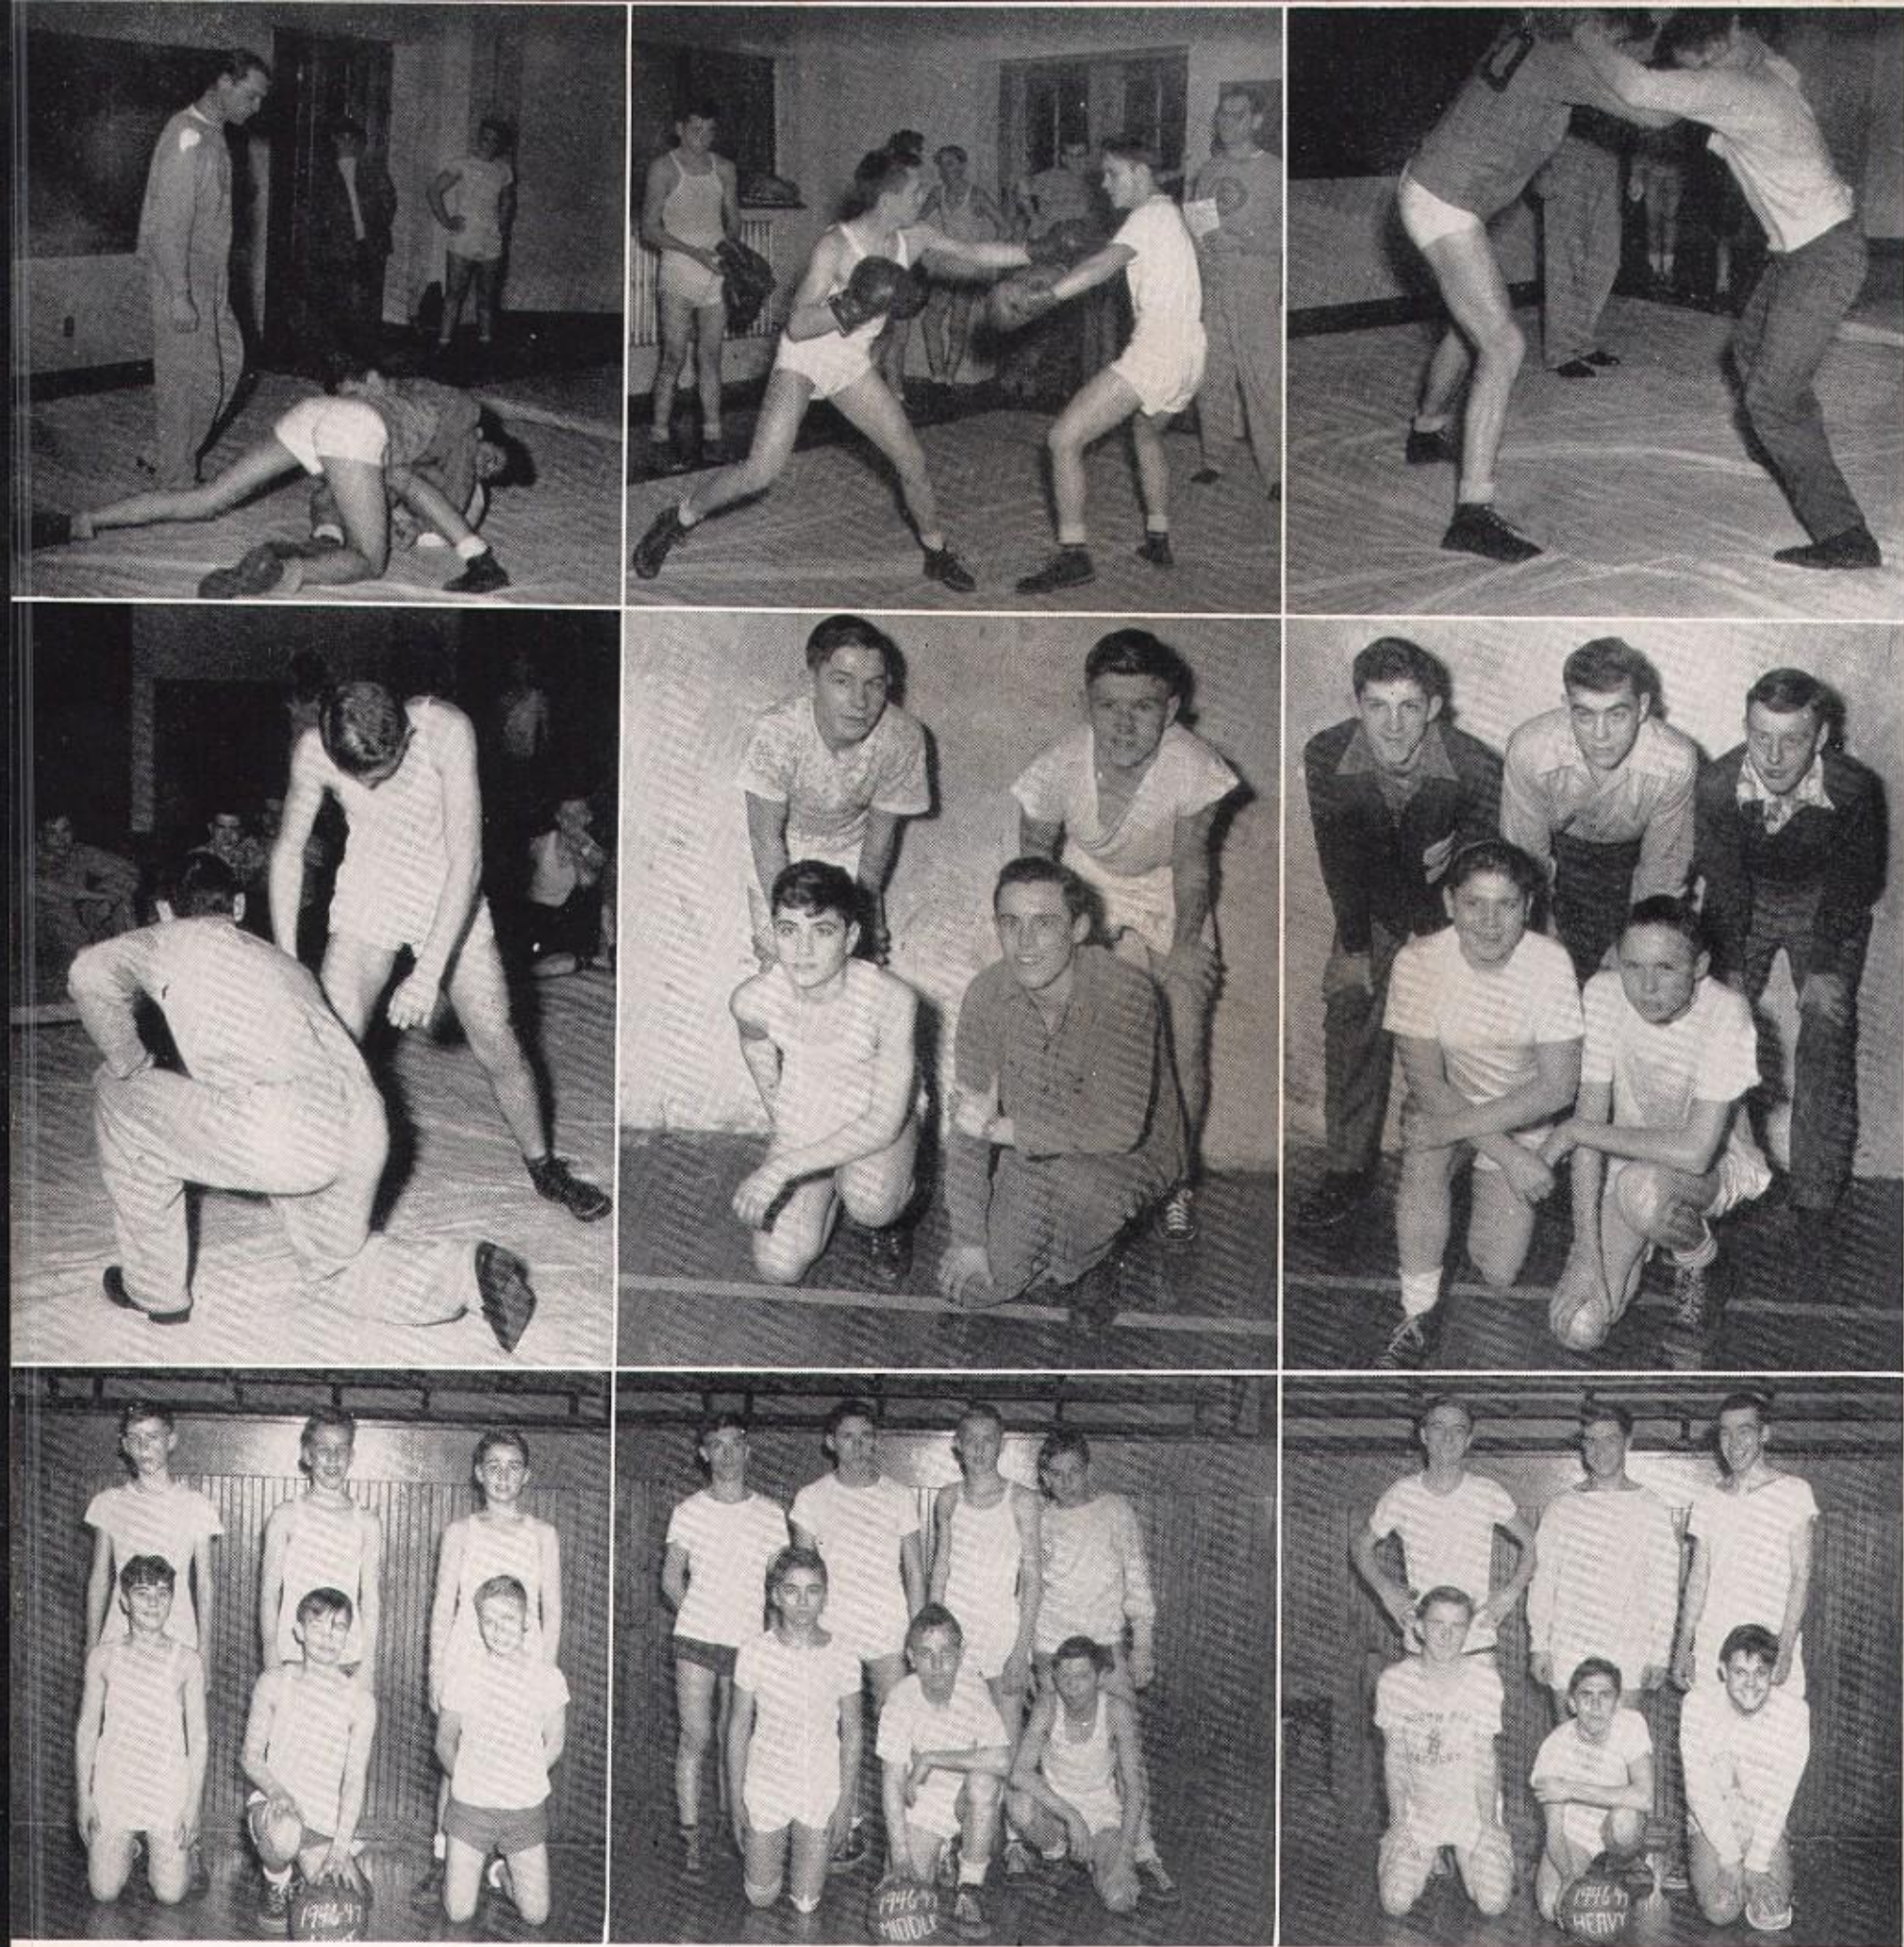

The intramural sports program under the supervision of Mr. Louis Briner (center) is one of the most popular programs in the school.

Every semester, the graduating seniors hold their breaths and cross their fingers as the door of their room opens on Tag Day. This is the day on which the qualified seniors are selected for the National Honor Society. This society limits its members to those pupils excelling in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. At the beginning of the seniors' last semester, a list of the upper third of the class is issued to all teachers. From this list, the teachers send in their comments on the pupils they wish or wish not to be named to the National Honor Society. A committee meets, and, from the teachers' suggestions, limit the number of pupils for the final list to not more than fifteen per cent of the senior class.

The purpose of the Four-Year Honor Roll is to recognize students for their high scholarship. To become a member, a student must maintain an average of 90 per cent or above during their four years at South Side.

Second Generation ... Seniors

"Years and Years Ago" parents of present Archers traversed the very same halls, pulled the same antics, and cracked the same jokes as their sons and daughters. These sons and daughters who may have benefited from their parents' experience here are pictured below.

In the top picture are Pat Strobel (Gustav Rump, '23) and Kathleen Kohr (Marguerite Cramer, withdrew '26).

Middle: Earners of both of the titles of Most Likely To Succeed and Done Most For School, Bob Johnson and Evelyn Will.

Serve Senior Class

Seniors are proud of their officers who have served them faithfully throughout the year. They are the ones which deserve the praise for the success of such senior activities as the banquet, reception, play, and dance. Many an evening was spent in session with the advisers planning for these activities. The people deserving this praise are seated around the senior anniversary cake. They are, seated: Georgia Dreisbach, social council, and Evelyn Will, social council; kneeling, Sharon Langohr, secretary-treasurer; Dale Geiger, social council; George Newton, vice-president; and Robert Johnson, president; and standing are Miss Graham and Mr. McClure, class advisers.

'47 Val and Sal

During her four years at South Side, Jackie has been active in Philo, Meterites, Times, and Totem. She was elected to the National Honor Society and the four-year honor roll.

Since this is the twenty-fifth class to graduate from South Side, it is interesting to note that Jackie's mother, formerly Vivian Powell, was the school's first valedictorian. Both Jackie and her mother majored in Latin, English, and mathematics and minored in science. The two are pictured in their home in the center below.

Bob is the senior class president, and was also class president in his sophomore year. He was active in track, Hi-Y, Wranglers, Lettermen's, and intramural. He belongs to the National Honor Society and is on the four-year honor roll.

Each year for the past twenty-five years there have been some marvelous classes at South Side. Every year, each succeeding Senior class has proclaimed itself better than the last one. This year and this Senior class of '47 are no exception. However, this year we have a special reason for being such a special class.

There is an abundance of talented and good-natured boys and girls. For this reason we shall especially cherish this Anniversary album, as we wish to recall in the future the memories of happy hours spent in the companionship of these fellow classmates.

Second Generation . . . Juniors

It's been a long time since the parents of these second generation Junior boys and girls ambled through the then well-known portals and halls of South Side. Today, one finds here many sons and daughters of these "pioneers" of Archerdom.

Junior . . . Poll Placers

Remember way back last fall when you filled out those questionnaires? Well, here's what it all amounted to.

Top right: Joyce Kuckuck and Paul Mutschlecner live up to their titles, class bookworms, as they browse through some mighty impressive looking manuscripts in the library.

Center right: Cute li'l Maryann Gilbert sits with that handsome Gordie Stauffer. Here, without a doubt, are your cutest lass and most handsome lad.

Right: Sweet Norma Jenney rates as your most perfect lady; Marcia Mast displays the smile that gives her that personality plus; Bill Ashman takes honors in both these fields for the Junior males.

Bottom right: Sue Brudi seems pretty happy over the fact that she is sure to succeed; Patty Close has really done a lot for South Side as far as the girls go, while Bob Mossman takes this honor for the boys. Bo also rates with Sue as the boy most likely to succeed.

Half time is time for "eats" when it comes to South Side football games. Here we see Donna Roberts, Vicky Turpchinoff, Jackie Schulein, and Joella Seibert refreshing themselves with those ever tasty taffy-apples.

Time out for a little fun, that is what Sonny Wickliffe is taking as he prepares to let the old moose head have it. . . . We only hope that he can tell the moose from his fellow Archer Bill Doan who is perched a little close.

Second Generation ... Sophomores

It's been a long, long time since the first students walked in these long familiar corridors. In time, those very first pupils were graduated and are now sending their children to those very same halls. Pictured are the sophomore students who now walk where "ma and pa" once did.

Top: Stan Knapp (Paul Knapp, '24), Doris Lee (Howard Lee, ex-'24), and Dick Hendricks (Mildred Bahde, '27).

Second: Smiling Mary Jane Peirce (Mary Travis, '25) sits with Ruth Allmandinger (Zelma Shaffer, '26) and Carolyn Shaffer (Esther Roush, '26).

Third: The masculine group includes Paul Gerke (Frances Cozich, '25), Phil Hoffman (Fred Hoffman, '26), and Chuck Snyder (Lucille Dutton, '26).

Last: A trio of Elaine Roth (Rodger Roth, ex-'27), Nancy Hilgeman (La Von Ellis, '25), and Wyona Meyer (Mildred Hertel, ex-'28) are pictured here.

Sophomore . . . Poll Selections

Top right: Bonnie Schemehorn, voted the cutest girl, is perched on the arm of the chair in which Rollie Miller, the cutest boy, is seated.

Middle right: Ruth Makey, the class bookworm minus her books, is engaged in conversation with Frances Waterfield, the girl most likely to succeed, and Beach Hall, who copped two honors as the boy bookworm and the boy most likely to succeed.

Lower left: Making with the music are the two personality plus pupils. The piano player is Vicky Turpchinoff and Dick Jenkins is giving out with vocals.

Right: Carolyn Scholer and Joe Gold, doing another good deed of which they have done many, were voted the two who have done the most for the school.

Row one: Ruth Allmandinger, Mary Louise Amans, David Archbold, Anna Marie Asimakopoulos.

On a warm day, one's lunch tastes better outside; at least, this seems to be the opinion of Martha Fulton, Mary Jane Swaim, Jane Hawver, and Katy Tanner whom our camera man caught just finishing up.

Row two: Dale Augspurger, Gordon Banks, Beverly Baker, Sally Barber.

Row three: Wesley Barker, Robert Barbieri, Mary Margaret Baumgartner, Joan Baxter.

Row four: Ruth Bayer, Carol Beerpower, Mary Beeler, Lisetta Bendel, Gene Berghorn, Sue Bergman, Donna Jean Berning, Paul Berning.

Row ten: Doris Williams, Ruth Witmer, Gloria Woods.

Some people do not ever seem to be able to drag themselves home to do their homework. Seniors are definitely no exception as this pic of Kay Kayser, Betty Graham, Betty Koerber, Jo Reed, Cyn Koerber, and Gretch Askerberg clearly shows.

Row eleven: Norma Wright, Jim Young, Barbara Zingrebe.

Second Generation ... Freshmen

Walking in our memory-filled halls are twenty-eight Freshmen whose parents attended South Side in the early years of its history. They go into the same classrooms, study in the same study hall, and become excited over similar school events that their parents did some twenty years ago.

First picture, row one: Jack Braden (Harry Braden, ex-'27), James Bill (Calvin Bill, '25), James Rump (Olive B. Richhart, '25); row two: Richard Dettmer (Milton Dettmer, '31), Keith Myers (Dwight Myers, '24; Miriam Yoder, '24), Bob Pinkham (Robert T. Pinkham, '23), Bill Wellman (Walter Wellman, '27; Thelma M. Buirley, '26).

Third picture, row one: Ronald Schultheis (Mildred Moellering, '29), Gloria Mills (Mary Scotton, '27), Morrell Travis (Hilda Frances Sellers, '28); row two: Jerry Swank (Leslie Swank, '25), Nancy Clark (Queen Esther Hafert, '25), Pauline Ford (Juanita Peters, '27), Dale Niemeyer (Frank Niemeyer, '26).

Fourth picture, row one: Mary O'Brien (Myron O'Brien, '30; Alice Virginia Cowan, '29), Janice Epple (Dorothy Hawk, '29; Robert Epple, '28), Elizabeth Spangle (Walter Spangle, '26), LaVon Conn (Sidney B. Conn, '27), Joyce Hilker (Louis Hilker, ex-'24); row two: Jeannett Toussaint (Beth Shaw, ex-'28), Joan Clauser (Joe Clauser, '25).

Fifth picture: Jim Duff (James Duff, ex-'29) Jack Disler (Mary Harmeyer, ex-'25; Ray Disler, '29).

Freshmen . . . Poll Favorites

Top picture: Heading the list of Freshman Poll winners, on two accounts, are Jerry Dreisbach and Duncan Whitaker. They take the honor of being the girl and boy most likely to succeed and the two who have done the most for the school.

Second picture: Here, we have the most perfect gentleman, Jim Reinhard, and that well known girl, Helen Bennett, who has taken the honor of being the girl with the best personality and being the most perfect lady; also there's Arnold Hoffman, the boy with the best personality.

Third picture: Ah, and here are our two well informed freshman bookworms, Ann Dygert and Terry Edgar, with a supply of books near at hand as usual.

Bottom picture: Of course, we can not forget our two well-known classmates, Tom Skole and Beverly Morris, who smile prettily for the photographer as they have their pictures taken for being the most handsome boy and cutest girl.

"See you in the Times Room after school" is a familiar saying around South Side. Here we see Stew Herring, Mary Jane Swaim, Jerry Knight, and Jane Hawver gathered around the typewriters.

Row one: Nancy Agnew, Wallace Allen, Carol Altevogt, Jackie Amstutz.

Row two: Patty Andorfer, Dianne Angold, Don Arick, Lois Augsburg.

Row seven: Bob Grimme, Kay Grove, Patty Grubb, LaDonna Gulley, M. Catherine Haley, Robert Hanna, Phyllis Ann Hasse.

Row eight: Ruth Harrold, Sally Harshman, Pat Hart, Jean Hartman, Shirley Hartranft, Harold Hebermehl, Ellyn Heine.

Row nine: Jane Heistand, Bonnie Helmer, Gilda Hengsteler, Bonnie Henninger.

Row ten: Tom Henry, Merle Hettler, Nan Heuer, Jenny Hey.

Row eleven: Joyce Hilker, Dale Hille, Jane Hoard, Max Hobbs.

The eighth period finds many students working in our well supplied library. Joanie Behrens is studying diligently as Pauline Hahn, library worker, looks on.

Everybody has a favorite place for studying; and on a warm fall day, our school lawn rates tops with Arthur Swanson, Dick Van Curen, Rollie Miller, and David Gossman.

Row one: Bill Hodges, Jean Holmgren, Beverly Hosler.

Row two: Eugene Hosler, Ruth Hovarter, Jim Howey.

Row six: Arthur Kimball, Estelle King, Sharon King, Barbara Kline, Marilyn Klomp, Wayne Knigge, Jerry Knight.

Row three: Marilyn Morgan, Joe Morgenthaler, Beverly Morris, Carole Moses, Lois Mossman, Keith Myers, Norleen Myers.

Row six: Norman Patton, Joan Phillimore, Betty Phillips, Bob Pinkham, Norma Plumley, Carolyn Pope, Janet Portman.

Row seven: Carol Prentiss, Joyce Ramey, Jeanne Ray, Norma Reed, Jim Reinhard, Doris Reisinger, Mona Remmers.

Row eight: Marisue Renkenberger, Marilyn Rheinfrank, Donna Rhodes, Gloria Richardson, Edward Rice, Mary Jane Richardson, Bob Risinger.

Row eleven: Jeannette Samsen, Jeanne Samsen, Dona Schrecongost.

Totem time is autograph time for South Side lads and lassies. Our staff reporter caught Sue Brudi, Pat Seibert, Sharon Thomas, and Nancy Buck busily penning their names after finishing their witty writings.

Row one: Kenny Schmidt, Helen Schnitker, Robert Scholes.

Row two: Phyllis Schonefeld, Cathy Schramm, Mary Louise Schubert.

Row three: Ronald Schultheis, LaDonna Schweizer, Marilyn Siemens, Kyle Sell, Ralph Sheets, Webb Sherill, Ronald Shookman.

Row ten: Margaret White, Sue Whiteman, Tom Whiting, Lenora Whitbey, Roger Wiggins, Bob Williams, Maxine Williams.

Second row: Varied and many are the honors that The Times has won for the past twenty-five years. . . . Also winning journalistic awards are the Archers pictured right. The members of Quill and Scroll are, first row: Betty Koerber, Gretch Askerberg, Mar Koomjohn, Mary Lou Motz, Kay Kayser, Joan Kline, and Jinny Brown. Second row: Cyn Koerber, Jo Reed, Jackie Wilson, Sharon Langohr, Jean Brumbaugh, and Joyce Lakey. Third row: Lucille Mangels, Georgia Dreisbach, and Don Breimeier. Absent when this picture was taken were Kay Kohr, Marilyn Moore, Janet Chappell, Norma Gilbert, and Di Fletcher.

Third row: Few will soon forget that swell sendoff given the team on their way to Muncie. Among those present and in the program were some of South's former stars, including some '38 champs. . . . The other Fort Wayne schools helped in big sendoff by expressing their good wishes and giving the team members good luck tokens. Willie holds Central's; Bob, South's; Bud, Concordia's; Gordie, North's; and Bill, C.C.'s.

Events

These are just various snaps of different events throughout this year. In the center picture is a scene from a play given at Christmas by the Latin Department. In the upper right picture are some of the teachers at a faculty party. Now to go clockwise. Here are some of the boys at the Latin Circus performing in a chariot race. Below them, Don Breimeier and Sharon Langohr look with interest at part of the French-Spanish exhibition. Next, these parents taking part in Back-To-School Night sit like model pupils before their instructor. Above them, Caesar Louis Bloom, reading an official proclamation, attracts the attention of the lictors, the Vestal Virgins, a Roman senator, and Roman matrons at the Roman Circus last year. At the upper left we see a picture from the Latin exhibition in Room 102. At the very top Miss Fiedler and Miss Perkins admire some of the articles in the French-Spanish exhibit.

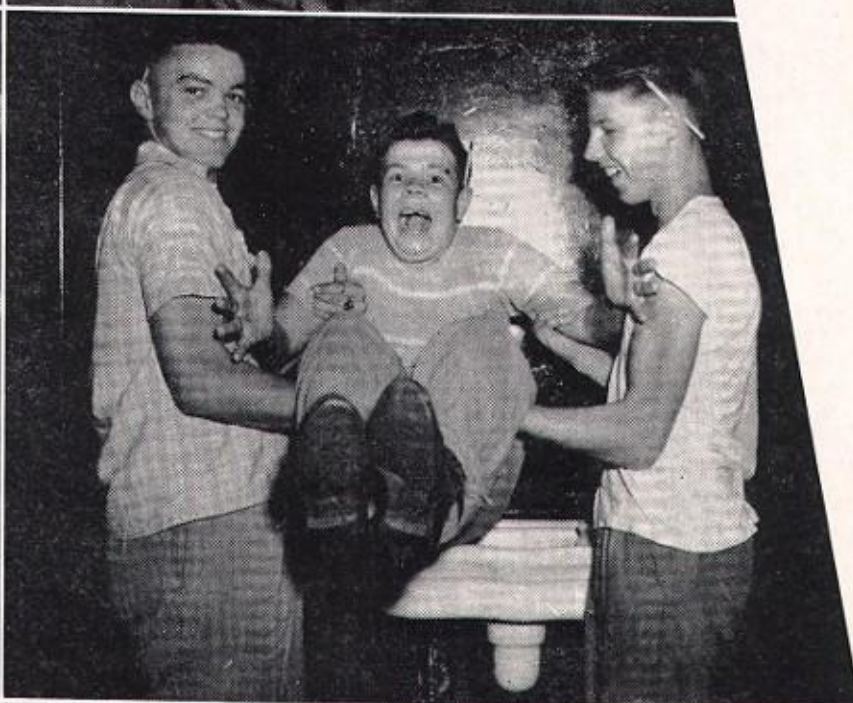

A Senior's life is highlighted with many pleasant activities. In the center picture Joan Kline is proudly receiving her ribbon on Tag Day. In the upper right picture other Seniors are receiving due credit on Recognition Day. Going clockwise we see before and after scenes of our Senior Banquet. First we see part of our Kelly Klan enjoying themselves in the midst of the banquet. Below them we see a few industrious artists in the "before" stage of the banquet. Next are two Senior lasses contributing their voices to the musical part of the program. Above them the scene has changed to a happy group at the Senior Reception. At the upper left we see Seniors at the dinner for National Honor Society members. At the very top are hungry Senior lads in line for an interesting part of their banquet.

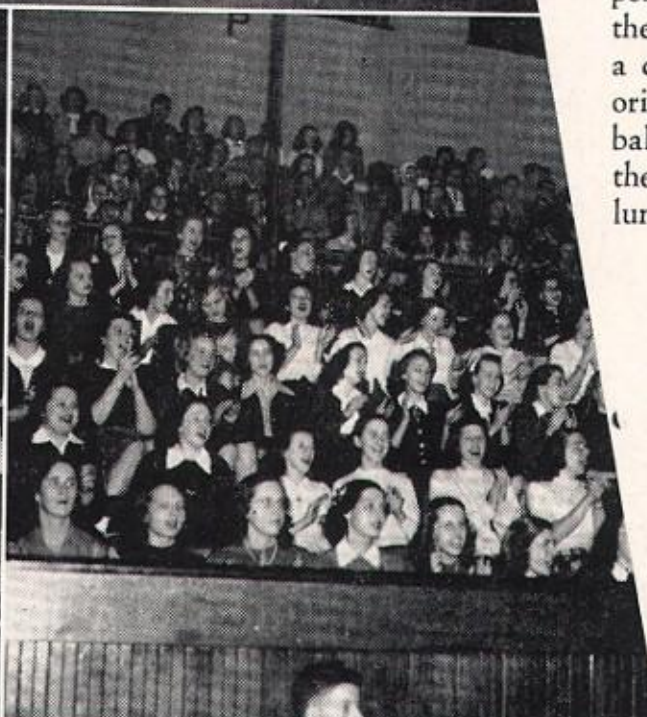

It must be the first day of the semester as these two Archers ponder over the map in The Times. . . . It's clean-up locker day in a not-so-orderly locker. . . . Those Jaunty Juniors certainly believe in keeping South Side spic and span. Here are two of them mopping up spilled ink. Teacher said to clean up. . . . Remember that fateful day not really so long ago when you, as a Freshman, first entered these portals and picked up your little yellow card in the gym? . . . Tag day! Everyone holds his breath while those cards are pinned up, then a chorus of "oh's" and "ah's". . . . Oh, those cruel boys! George and Don initiate a poor, innocent, unsuspecting frosh on the fountain. . . . Totem signing days in the front hall. . . . Seniors in Home Room 8 buying their weekly stamps and bonds.

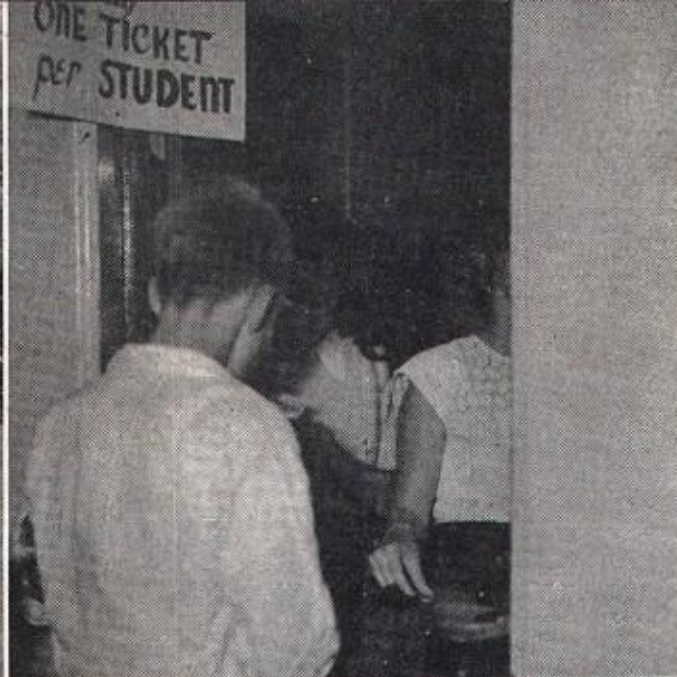

Our five cheering cheer-leaders "show their stuff" with the Locomotive yell. They are: Dale Geiger, Jim Williams, Kenny Robertson, John Carlson, and Bill Waterfield. . . . The unfurling of the flag at one of the basketball games. . . . "Go you Archers, go you Archers, win this game." Just a small section of the crowd cheering our team on. . . . "South is whom we're rootin' for" with the Joy-Girl block leading the yell. . . . Ah! that wonderful fifth period. Why? Lunch, of course, in the cafe. . . . Our band sending forth a cheerful tune at a game. . . . The original Joy-Girls in action at a football pep-session. . . . Some more of the Archer lassies enjoying their lunches in the cafe.

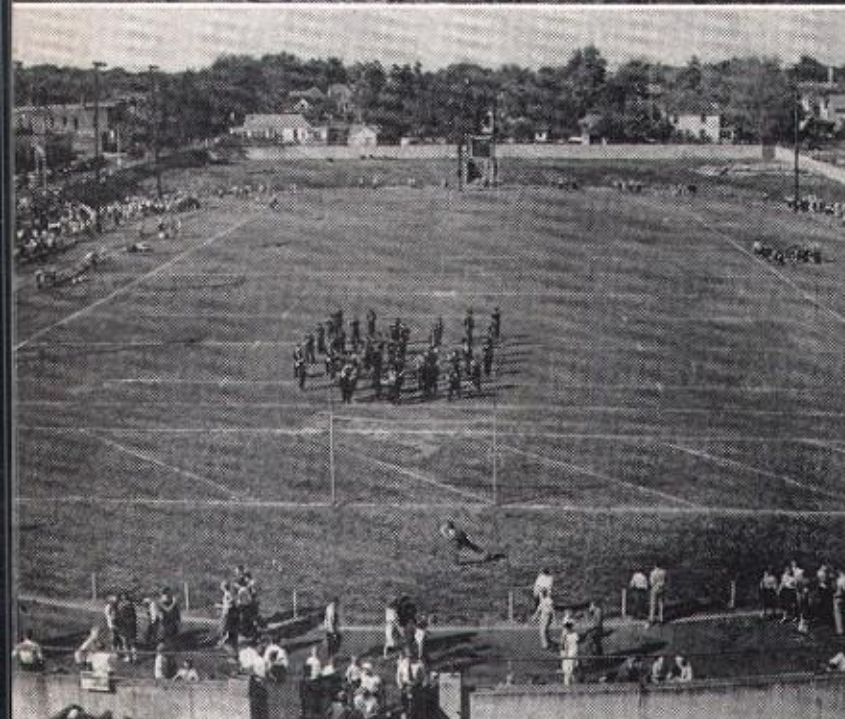

First row: Our football team trots across the street to the stadium to play hard and defeat another foe. . . A student finally reaches his goal and purchases that coveted piece of pasteboard after standing in the long, long line.

Second row: Students and cheerleaders watch intently as the team goes "down that field" in quest of another touchdown. . . Bill Pierce and Mr. Davis find that the washing machine comes in mighty handy when it comes to getting the dirt and grime out of uniforms and towels.

Third row: The band entertains South Side fans and guests with some snappy marching and formations along with their superlative music. . . Mr. Smuts dons sun glasses and rolls up his shirt sleeves to be comfortable while keeping fans informed on plays over the P.A. system.

Fourth row: "Hold that line" chant the fans as the Archers' opponent nears the goal line. . . This aerial view of South Side's home half of the stadium gives an idea of the size of the crowds.

First row: Assemblies are so important and so much fun. Here are a few pictures of them. First are Doris Wiebke, Cyn Koerber, Sharon Langohr, Ellen Goble, and Jo Reed listening to Bobby Johnson in the Hi-Y assembly. Decorations for the Christmas assembly are well under way as you can see here.

Second row: Char and Kathy smile at the large collection of food for the needy in Europe. Archers again proved their generosity. . . . Ah, the tree is finished. What a surprise it was when the tree began to sing and then march around the gym. (Explanation . . . the choir on steps held up evergreen branches to form the branches of the tree.)

Third row: An angel for the Christmas tree 'midst some of South Side's angels in the Art room. . . . Two of Santa's ablest assistants are seen here, Mar Koomjohn and Janet Chappell, by name.

Fourth row: There's Santa himself, spreading joy in the form of peanuts. . . . The Easter assembly was both inspiring and beautiful. It put us all in the proper spirit.

*Best decorated and first place in everything else -
Keep up your spirit -
Thank you

Third row, left: "Hands back, take a deep breath, hold it, don't move!" Click, and another student has been X-rayed. . . . Right: Here we see two members of the acrobatic troupe who entertained us with their stunts on the trampoline last fall.

Center: The band marks time in front of the stadium before starting to march in the Ivy Day ceremony.

Circle clockwise from the top: Laura Ann McCurdy, last year's Ivy Queen, leads the class in the parade around the school. Her attendants, Mary Lou Singer, Tusie Pohlmeier, Jo Piatt, and Eleanor Dickmeyer, follow. . . . Mr. Arlington leads the band at the commencement exercises last June. . . . Mr. Sterner, Nancy Gordon, and Bill Ashman help with the decorations for last year's Sophomore Party. . . . Miss Osborne directs the students in distributing the balloons for the Sophomore Party. . . . With all the work behind them, the students enjoy the never-to-be-forgotten party. . . . These steps symbolize the end of the Senior's high school life and the beginning of his life in college or business. . . . Mr. Plasterer presents his "Bubbles Concerto" to the Sophomores at the class party.

To a good sincere worker and a fellow band member.
Best of luck in the future. Even though you did tease me a lot. I didn't mind it but I did get pretty mad at times
Good Luck.
Ethan.

To a fellow band
member and English
student - Good Luck
in your first high school career
Dave Sauer

To a good buddy
" Good Luck
Robert Chambers

To Dick,

I'm glad to have known you in high school and to have been in your home rooms. I'm sorry I faded so miserably in you know what. You're a very nice person and I like you a lot. Best wishes always.

Jackie Bergstedt

To a grand guy
and a fellow band member - Here is wishing you a prosperous future
